A big difference for little people

Judges were looking to recognise any young person under 18 who has overcome a personal difficulty or made a stand to improve their life or the lives of others.

This includes young individuals coping with bereavement, bullying, disability, or medical problems, as well as those who have organised support for others facing similar challenges.

MMAS

Congratulations Maddison the team are very proud of your achievements and your vision.

We are so excited for the rest of the MMAS journey.

Well done and massive congratulations.

Maddison Spencer

Maddison, just 16 years old, is nominated for the Chanelle Pickford Award for his exceptional dedication to helping others. From the age of five, Maddison has shown a passion for giving back, highlighted by his donation of saved Christmas and birthday money to a homeless family in Luton after their home was destroyed by fire. This act led to the founding of MMAS Foundation, which supports underrepresented communities. As CEO, Maddison inspires and guides others, breaking stereotypes and offering vital support.
